

Children are Being Replenished from the EAST... ...through their cartoons and simple little music videos.

A few weeks ago, as I was looking on 'youtube' for some little nursery rhymes put to music for my little pre-school kids to either show them or record the music to use in class, I ran across some more influence of Bollywood on America – as well as seeing how much we have already 'turned to the East as a nation, something that was done by God's people back in the days of Isaiah (2:6).

I found a bunch – and I mean a bunch of kids cartoons, fairy tales, stories and classic children's songs. I found especially Aesop's fables. It had that obvious "Indian" look – and I don't mean 'cowboy and Indians' Indian... I mean "India Indian"... "Bollywood Indian".

So once again, we see that we much deeper into the EAST than most realize.

- This stuff is developed in and for a series called 'appuseries.com' – named after APPU. Who is this "Appu?" Check it out... it is a name FULL of Eastern & Hindu history!
- They call Aesop's Fables Aesop's Tales! I can understand why Aesop, but why change Fables to Tales! Must have something to do with manipulating their little minds.
- The spoken accent is totally 'Indian' – so the kids would get comfortable hearing it. I tested my kids here at school – they knew it was different... but we also know that if they listened to these all the time, they would just accept them as any good globalist child would!
- They use "Classical" and 'Western Music' (not Country and Western but western referring to the European and 'western civilization' – band instruments, nice vocal, etc. world.)
- I find it very interesting that they use the 'good stuff' with the kids. In other words, if you want your kids to listen to classical music or watch cartoons that are full of goodness, manners, good music, good morals, good kids, etc., your only choice is to be replenished from the East... just be ready for learning "toleration for global & cultural differences."
- These are translated in almost EVERY Eastern language, but seldom in Western languages.
- The characters are seldom, if ever, 'white' characters. They are all Eastern little kids and adults – mostly still dressed in Western / European style, too. They just smack of goodness and cleanness – and 'Easternness!'
- The background furniture, pictures, décor, etc. are mostly Eastern in their design.
- There are many various children materials and titles that can be found through this series – there are even a few more series' that are located at the bottom in the 'Show More' on the Youtube page.
- This stuff is popular and readily available on Facebook, Twitter and Instagram. That is NOT the way of life in India – so you know there is something suspicious going on there!!!!
- America has certainly dropped the ball for their kids - with their rock music, the upbeat and off beat, lack of decent morals, perverseness, immodesty, awful languages. So, the replenishment for the parents who 'know better' must be replenished from the EAST!
- Musically, the music does not follow the Western designed form and design – from the instruments to the time signatures to the chord structure and timbre (sound).
- Simply stated, it is NOT AMERICAN music – it is a form of mix from Eastern and Western music and they are after your children and grandchildren!
